Dear Sir,

Our Latin Club
desires to visit the Numismatic Museum some school day reaching there between 2<sup>30</sup> & 3<sup>00</sup> or possibly 5.
~~How late is the museum open?~~

1. Is there a choice of days?
2. Is there any one there who could explain the Roman & Greek coins
~~in the museum,~~ & perhaps tell us something about ours (about a dozen that we have just purchased for our Classical Museum) if we take them in with us?
3. Is there an entrance fee or fee for guide, & how long will it take ~~in the museum?~~

Awaiting an early reply
& thanking you, I remain
Sincerely,

Mande C. Gay.
(~~would there be much of~~
~~interest in the Span.~~
~~Indian museum~~ ~~near you?~~)

Dear Madam:

Our Museum is open to the public any week day, but Monday, between two and five o'clock. It is open Sundays, but there is no one on duty that could explain the coins. We close promptly at five, therefore, your class should be here earlier than this hour.

At the present moment, we have but two small cases on view of Greek and Roman coins. However, these present a representative collection of these coins. There will probably be someone on hand who can tell you about any coins your class might bring along. There is no entrance fee.

There is much to see both in the Indian and the Spanish Museums. You could spend a profitable afternoon taking in all three of the Museums..

Very truly yours,

Curator
